assumption that if by chance we do not do a $100 million or a $110 million, that if this drops to $55 million or if it goes to something...this is going to be an proportionate suffering if, in fact, we can't do it all, or if there is a change, I'm making the assumption that...that it will be proportionate. I don't want to throw another problem into it, but I also, and I don't know what the understandings are, I was not a part of that, but at least I reserve the right to understand that better when we get to that point that...a $100 million has still not been a hundred percent decided, from my view point, just as income tax has not been a hundred percent decided, so forth.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Senator Withem.

SPEAKER WITHEM: All I wanted to do was compliment Senator Coordsen on his excellent eloquent speech that he gave previous to this.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Senator Stuhr.

SENATOR STUHR: Thank you, Senator Kristensen and members of the body. I too rise in support. I believe we are looking for some property tax relief and I believe the education of our children of this state is very important.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Senator Maurstad.

SENATOR MAURSTAD: Mr. President, I rise just because I failed to indicate that I would support this amendment and urge my colleagues to do so also. Sorry, I didn't do that the first time, I wouldn't had to take this time.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Senator Robinson.

SENATOR ROBINSON: Mr. Chairman and members of the body, I would like to ask Senator Hartnett a question since he is on the Revenue Committee.

SENATOR KRISTENSEN: Senator Hartnett, would you yield?

SENATOR HARTNETT: Yes.
